

ATTENTION – LEAD ACID BATTERY PURCHASERS

WE MAY OWE YOU A REFUND!

Did you buy a battery from Fred Meyer between December 13, 2014 and January 31, 2017? If so, we may owe you a refund of money.

We may have charged you a “core fee.” Under a class action settlement, we have agreed to refund up to two times the core fee to our customers who paid the core fee.

The settlement has been filed in Case No. 3AN-16-10640 CI (Anchorage Superior Court). You have until May 10, 2019 to contact the court to object to or opt out of the settlement.

To find out more, please contact Jim Davis at jdavis@njp-law.com, or at 907-264-6634. You can also review the proposed settlement of the lawsuit at njp-law.com.

Fred Meyer will try to contact all customers who used a loyalty card in connection with the purchase. You need to take action if your loyalty card contact information is out of date or you did not use a loyalty card.

You may contact the Settlement Administrator at KCC Class Action Services, P.O. Box 404000, Louisville, KY 40233-4000, or at 866-298-4190 if you want to be included in the settlement, or to update your contact information.
